Letter From The President

Greetings to all who read this yearbook,

Beginning in Marcn, 1997, the College began the celebration of seventy years of quality education with women. The celebrations will close in March, 1998 as the College comes together to celebrate the heritage of the Sisters of Saint Joseph of Boston, who in October 1997, began their joyous celebration of one hundred and twenty five years of service in the archdiocese of Boston. Fontbonne Academy, a Sister of Saint Joseph High School, where many of our students came from in the early days of the College, is this year celebrating its seventy five years. It seems to be a year in which we marvel at the intricate patterns of our history as we move to the future.

So it is with this year book. It stands in a rich history in which students have woven patterns in year books through the years and have created moments of past memories to grasp the individual and communal experiences in present time for reflection in the future. Reflection, the human experience so essential to appreciating the mysterious gift of life in time, is the theme chosen for the 1998 Year Book. The editors, with the help of other students, have tried to capture in word and pictures their experience at Regis College as understood from the past. Yet, they look to the future.

Our hope for their future is that they will find precious moments of reflections on their experience which will enable them to find joyous peace in their present as a means of embracing their lives. The women represented in these pages are gifts to our world. We will always have them in our hearts, in the fabric of the woven history of this college, and in the moments of our reflection as to why there must always exist a place in the woods of Weston called Regis College.

Sister Sheila Megley

70th Anniversary

Regis College traces its origins to seventeenth century Le Puy, France where women of courage, daring and commitment, the first CSJs, formed a community to serve the needs of their "dear neighbor." Suffering isolation and death during the French Revolution, they renewed their resolve to serve others when peace was restored. Venturing to the American frontier in 1836, CSJs found their way to Boston 125 years ago. Led by Mother Regis, they responded with a similar courage, daring and commitment to the educational and social needs of an immigrant population struggling to survive. When Mother Domitilla founded Regis College 70 years ago, they dared to dream dreams for your future. From their limited material resources, they purchased this extensive campus and acquired the advanced degrees to engage in higher education. They worked with your future in mind: that you would assume your rightful place in society, that you would serve your neighbor with respectful love, that you would strive to eradicate every barrier that divides neighbor from neighbor and that you, in turn, would become women of courage, daring and commitment.

Professor of History

Looking back...

It's hard to believe that these candid photos are reflections of our four years at Regis; years that were once in the palms of our hands, and yet, when we finally had the time to look again, these years had slipped through our fingers amidst love, laughter, and growing. Some of the people may have since left Regis, but none the less, they still touched our lives. As we look at these candids, we should smile! They are the joy, the silliness, the pride, and the uncertainties of our undergraduate career. Reflect upon that special power of friendship that is sound among women. Remember getting a back rub on a stressful night; remember how it felt to wipe away someone else's tears with your bare hands. Most of all, though... REMEMBER THE FUN!

SENIORS

We, the members of the Class of 1998, are a dynamic assortment of women loyal to fulfilling the mission of Regis College which is for students to "Acquire the values, ideas, techniques and habits that allow continual self-education of free, independent, and inquiring minds." Our devotion to this mission and our concurrent goal, the improvement of the human condition, will forever be held sacred whether in our hearts or in the annals of Regis College. The Regis mission statement also declares, "The entire climate of the College, which encourages student involvement, enhances the opportunities for women to develop into leaders of the future." As we enter the next stage of our lives may we carry with us this Regis climate. It is my hope as your Class President that Regis College will hold all of our memories safe in its keeping. May we the members of the Class of 1998 follow Via, Veritas, Vita- the Way, the Truth, and the Life. With love and great esteem I bid you farewell and hope that we can strengthen the bonds that have tied our class together during these four years of our lives.

Activities

When we reflect on Regis in the future, we may often think of our education in terms of acedemics. Our activities, however, played an equally important role in exposing us to new knowledge about ourselves and our community. Whether we were in the Psychology Club, AHANA, theater, or event attended an event sponsored by an organization, our lives at Regis were enriched and made much more fun by these activities. I hope as you gaze at the next few pages you will remember the enjoyment they brought to our campus

Hoop Ceremony

Vividly decorated circles of fabric lined the walls of the Carney Art Gallery as family and friends gathered into the Eleanor Welch Casey Theatre for the traditional Academic Investiture of the senior class. One by one the hoops, decorated by members of the Class of 1998, individually represent the unique women who belong to the Class of 1998. It is this uniqueness and individuality that makes the display of the hoops so beautiful and exciting. Every hoop introduces a unique color palette, style and concept that when united with the complete collection of hoops, paints a beautiful picture. It is the uniqueness seen in the hoops that has become a special trait to the Class of 1998. Like the hoops, each member of the Class of 1998 introduces several unique characteristics that strengthen our class, making it more dynamic and beautiful. If every hoop was exactly the same, the beauty and individuality would be lost. Although the colors, ideas and visual representations vary on the outside of the hoop, inside each hoop is made up of the identical wooden structure that supports the decorative coverings. This concept is true of the members of our class; we are all made up of the different colors, characteristics and opinions. However, on the inside, we are all women, striving for similar goals.

We were united when we entered the reshman class and will continue to trengthen this commonality as we ontinue through life. These hoops, vivid n color, are a constant reminder of the niqueness and individuality of our class, ut more importantly a reminder of our nity. I learned many years ago that a ircle contains on major points but rather, s made up of an infinite number of oints, each as important as the next. All he points are needed to complete the ircle. I feel our class is in fact a large ircle, for no member of our class is more nportant that the other and we need all he members of our class to unite together o create the unity and uniqueness of our lass.

ears from now when we look back on his day, we will not remember what veryones hoop looked like, but we will ways remember the faces of our fellow assmates and all their unique haracteristics. As we rolled our hoops, e relfected on all the memories of our days here at Regis College, realizing that time is quickly rolling away from us. Although several years down the road our hoops may become dull in color, or start to fray and fall apart. Our memories will never fade. Even though our points on the circle will soon break away to begin the new paths in our lives, we will always have a place on the circle of unity that united our senior class. Take these memories wherever you go, but always remember, you were a vital point to the Class of 1998 and will always be welcomed back to join the circle.

Spring Weekend

This year's Spring Weekend gave us a variety of ways to celebrate, though the warm weather had not yet settled in. There was the 70's and 80's T.T. to dress up for. sand art to create, and of course, hearing our own Raminta sing for us as she opened up for the band Division Street. As always, Regis College made the most of a weekend meant for friends and fun.

Regis Faculty

One of the greatest aspects of the Regis experience is the relationship between student and faculty. The members of the Regis College teaching community have been friends and mentors both in and out of the classroom, and the relationships we have built with them will be recalled as fondly as our friendships with other students.

Clubs

If any one thing can be pinpointed as Regis's strength, it's the level of students' involvement in clubs and organizations. Whether it's Literary Society or Glee Club, AHANA or TT Managers, Student Government or WRGS, there is always a diverse group of women representing the college at various events. Through educational Forums, fun Tower Taverns, intriguing Coffee Hauses and meaningful community service, Regis clubs do justice to its mission statement.

The events and activities planned, along with publications produced by these groups on campus, represent the best that Regis has to offer. Through constant support and guidance from the Dean of Students and Student Activities Office, there is always something to do, whether it be fun, enriching, exciting, or meaningful.

If nothing else, I know that I will always look back at my involvement in Regis Clubs and Organizations, and be thankful for the opportunity they gave me. Each student who is, has been or will be involved at Regis will reach her full potential as a leader. And looking back, I know that much of who I am has developed from my own experiences here at Regis College.

Campus Ministry

Campus Ministry is an integral part of the life and mission of Regis College, helping students, faculty, staff and administration "to act justly, love tenderly and walk humbly with our God" (Micah 6:8). The Campus Ministry Council, facilitated by seven student leaders and the Campus Ministers, is a group of several students who come together regularly for prayer, friendship and planning. The council advises and assists Campus Ministry in the planning of the Spiritual, Social, Educational, and Service activities on campus.

Hemetera

Hemetera is a literary magazine made up of poetry, short stories and artwork created by pure Regis talent. Students, faculty, and staff put their creative minds together to help us make a unique and wonderful puclication of the Regis community. Hemetera owes its existance to Sister Chicchese, the magazine staff, and everyone who submitted. Thanks should especially be given to those inspirations that prompted the ideas.
Best Wishes to the Class of 1998.

Tower Society

The Tower Society is a specially selected group of students who volunteer their time to assist the admissions office. They hold a vital public relations role at Regis College as they provide prospective students their first impressions of Regis College. Tower Society members give administrative support to the office of admissions, conduct campus tours for prospective students, and act as hostesses at admissions functions, including overnight programs.

Gospel Choir

The Gospel Choir is a moving experience for all its members. At their concerts, they share their spirituality with the whole Regis Community.

Student Government Association

The 25 elected women who comprise the whole of the Student Government Association are dedicated to serving the Regis College Community to their utmost ability. Through work on the five committees, Social Forum, Public Relations, Student Concerns and Community Service, the SGA is constantly planning and implementing events that the student body shows interest in having on campus. In addition to traditional events such as Oktoberfest and Spring Weekend, the SGA has accomplished many other tasks, including the reestablishment of the Information Highway, informational forums, and the Freedom Trail Walk in Boston. Thanks to the participation of the Regis College community, the support of the Dean of Students Office and the determination of the SGA members, the 1997-1998 school year was successful and rewarding.

"Women are the real architects of society"

-Harriet Beecher Stowe

WRGS

WRGS provides diversity of music for all who attend Regis College. We inform listeners at Regis College of current events, and provide a training ground for all students interested in broadcasting.

History Club

The new History Club was formed in the fall of 1997 in order to boost a sense of community within the History department. Majors, minors and others who are interested gather to discuss their futures in the field, certain topics of history and reviews of courses. Excursions and socials are employed as learning tools for these women about History and about History and about each other. The club is lead by a core constructive group.

"We are the hero of our own stories"

-Mary McCarthy

Science Club

The Science Club adds to the Regis Community in a variety of ways. Last semester the club held a career fair with Regis Alumnae and other members of the scientific community. The Science Club gives welcoming parties for new faculty members and also participates in fund raising and holds "Science Talks" for student researches to present their projects.

TT Managers

We had a great turnout this year at all of the T.T.'s. Thank you to all who attended. Seniors, best of luck to you all. There will always be a seat for you at the bar!

Peace and Justice Coalition

This coalition of passionate women is dedicated to educating the Regis community on global concerns such as poverty, human rights, the environment, and social economic, and gender equality. The coalition has worked hard on its Ethics Day workshops. The Peace and Justice Coalition seniors wish to thank Dr. Susan Zeiger and Dr. Lucia Ortiz for their guidance and the underclasswomen for their enthusiasm and dedication. Psychology Club

Come to the Psychology Club.
Lay down on the sofa,

As the Psychology Club we aim to ease the stresses of a college education, and explore options for a career in psychology. The Psychology Club has grown in member participation over the past few years. The graduating officers hope the club will continue to grow and take an active role in the community. We wish the underclassmen the best of luck and would like to thank the Psychology Department for four years of intellectual challenges.

Writing Assistants

The Writing Assistants are a group of student tutors who provide an acedemic service to the Regis Community. In addition to tutoring, the Assistants organize an "In Her Own Voice" presentation once a semester. "In Her Own Voice" is an opportunity for students to share their literary talents. The Assistants also publish highlights of "In Her Own Voice" in an annual collection.

"'Tis woman's strongest vindication for speaking that the world needs to hear her voice"

START

START, Students Talking About Racial Tension, is developed to peer educate the Regis community about the diversity and the cultural strengths of our campus. This year, the START organization focused on various enlightening programs on campus, discussing different issues concerning cultural diversity.One of the most successful programs is a group participation activity called the "Cultural Walk". This excercise, an expression of cultural pride, gives the entire group a heightened awareness of the unique role played by culture in the diversity of our college campus.

START is led by Julie Gordon and Lauress Wilkins, as well as several student members from around the world.

AHANA

AHANA is a multicultural sisterhood uniting all ethnicities under one common cause to provide support and education about our differences and similarities. Not only does AHANA's goals span over the Regis College campus, but they also reach far communities. The spirit of AHANA members past, present, and future shine like a light that never dims.

Goals for the Year:
1) to promote pride and support amongst its members
2) to inform the community of many different cultures and backgrounds
3) to get every member involved with its club; AHANA
4) to provide an enjoyable outlet in an otherwise stressful life

Glee Club

The Regis Glee Club, combined with the musical talents of many Regis students, travel near and far to spread the joy of music. In 1997, we had the opportunity to travel to Greece with the Villanova Singers. In the past, the club has sung with the Boston Civic Symphony Orchestra, the Heritage Choral, and the WPI Glee Club. Together with the Alumnae Chorus, we look forward to many more years of singing together.

Sports

Here they are the Regis Beacons...

Pride, dedication and excellence is how we could best describe the Regis College Athletics Department. No goal was ever out of reach for our Regis Beacons. Whether, it be making waves against Wellesley and blowing them out of the water, bringing home a championship for the Commonwealth Coast Conference or placing first in a Regis Invitational, our women always brought home the gold. Of course, every team reaches for victory but without team unity victory cannot be achieved. There is no I in Team, and our players understand and demonstrate this concept. For even when the final score is not in our favor we always remain champions.

The eleven teams in our CCC Division III League for the NCAA are comprised of strong, intelligent, compassionate women. These women are filled with knowledge and wisdom of her sport and each has devoted herself to strive for excellence, on and off the "playing field". We've suffered through injuries, defeat, and illness, however, we've always managed to find success. We've experienced triumph and glory and we have overcome the many obstacles that we've met along our journey.

The Regis College athletes are lucky to have such Fantastic supporters, especially the parents and families. No matter what the distance or weather conditions, our faithful fans are always there to cheer us on. The Regis Athletics Department has undergone several changes over the past few years. With every challenge came a new opportunity, which eventually brought us to much success. The Regis athletes have faced much adversity and they have always found a way to surpass all odds.

For the past four years I have had the privilege of working with the Athletics Department as a team manager for basketball, softball, and swimming and diving. I also, on occasion would announce the volleyball matches. I thank Judy Burling and all of the coaches for allowing me the opportunity to share my talents with the department. A special Thank You to the athletes, especially the basketball players for making me feel like a member of the team. My announcing days have now come to an end, but the memories will last a lifetime. To the athletes, remember "If you put your heart in it, it can take you anywhere." We are all champions! Best of Luck.. Always!

Volleyball

After suffering the loss of co-captain Lynne Erickson and Sue Lynch, the 1997 Regis Volleyball Team got off to a slow start. After starting out the first half of the season with a record of 4-8, the team was not sure if it would make it to post-season play. Behind the leadership of senior Erin Sweeney and junior captains Erin Howe and Sherrill Erickson, the team improved, ending the season with a record of 15-14.

One of the best performances of the season came in the conference tournament against Commonwealth Coast Conference powerhouse Eastern Nazarene. The success of the second half of the season was due to improved play and the way the team came together. Juniors Jasmine Lai and Ami Li; sophmore Kelly Doyle, Allyson DiGregory, Kelly Murphy Lisa Sizer and Andrea Holden, and freshmen Courtney McAulay and Gloria Gealdinoall played key roles in the success of the Regis Volleyball Team. The tournament team awards were presented to Erin Howe and Amy Li at the Roger Williams Tournament and at the Commonwealth Coast Conference Tournament.

On behalf of the Regis College Volleyball Team, I would like to thank Angela Caira for all her support over the past four years announcing the games. You will be missed. We would also like to wish Erin Sweeney the best of luck, and to let you know that you will be missed and we love you!

Field Hockey

The 1997 Field Hockey team finished with a record of six wins and ten losses. We had a great season and really came together on and off the field. The team was led by senior captains, Jill Fiore and Kristen Lehmann, who promoted a tremendous sense of team unity. Thank you to all our fans who provided great support throughout our season. Good Luck next year!

Cross Country

The cross-country team endured a challenging but successful season. With new members and a new coach, the team made several surprises at a number of meets: the Pop Crowell at Gordon College, the Roger Williams Invitational, and taking first place at the "Regis" Invitational. Veterans Mariah Donovan, Shannon Daniels, Katie Harrington, Courtney Maguire, Katie O'Connor, and Stacey Bumpus shattered old records. Newcomers Alicia Teague, Martha DiMatteo, Danielle Smith, and Wilnie Wesh made lasting impressions both in practice and in races. Though we worked through many injuries, the teams friendship, strength and endurance carried everyone through to complete a wonderful season.

Tennis

The Regis College Tennis Team ended their season with a seasonal record of 9-8 and a conference record of 5-3. The team had many close matches which depended on the victory of only one match. The Regis tennis team came in fourth in the total conference, consisting of nine other strong teams. They were lead by junior captains Kate Cavanaugh and Nora Connolly. Our team roster, which included thirteen players, was one of the youngest and strongest tennis teams Regis has ever seen. Fortunately, we are only losing two seniors, Amy Bantos and Deb Hobson.

For the first time, Regis College was honored at the New England Women's Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament. Kate Cavanaugh and Nora Connolly represented the school, competing in the first singles and first doubles.

Concluding the season, six selected players competed at the Commonwealth Coast Conference. Nora Connolly, Kate Cavanaugh, Yuko Fukada, and Yoko Aono made up the singles roster for the first through fourth singles, while Amy Bantos and Megan Bringhoff fought it out for Regis in first doubles. Nora and Kate both made it to the semi-finals.

The captains would like to thank the whole team and their coach Arlene Deardorff for an amazing season. They would also like to wish the very best to the graduating seniors.

Crew

As co-captain of the crew team for a second year, I would like to share with you some of the highlights of our fall season, as well as some of the challenges associated with a newly developed varsity sport. To start, I would like to thank the school for developing this program. I have seen tremendous improvements since I first joined the team three years ago.

This year especially, I noticed a great improvement in our technique and skill. It seems that the team started up right where we left off last spring, improving quickly each day we are on the water. We rowed out of Community Rowing in Watertown, MA and focused on rowing a four person boat. This winter we participated in two indoor competitions, where we raced against the clock while sprinting on rowing machines. We continue to train all winter, preparing ourselves for our full competition schedule in the spring. The team is comprised of very dedicated women who always give 100 percent every morning at 5:30am, even if it's 35 degrees and raining.

In many ways such as allowing funding for us to row out of a boathouse to arranging transportation for the team to the boathouse Regis College has been very helpful. Since this is my senior year and my third and final year on the water as part of the Regis Crew Team, I would love to compete in my first rowing race on the Charles River, but more importantly, I would like to leave the team in a positive setting with hopes for a full competition schedule in the fall of next year. That is my true dream, to finally see Regis College at the Head of the Charles Ragatta race, even if I am at the Alumnae table instead of in the boat.

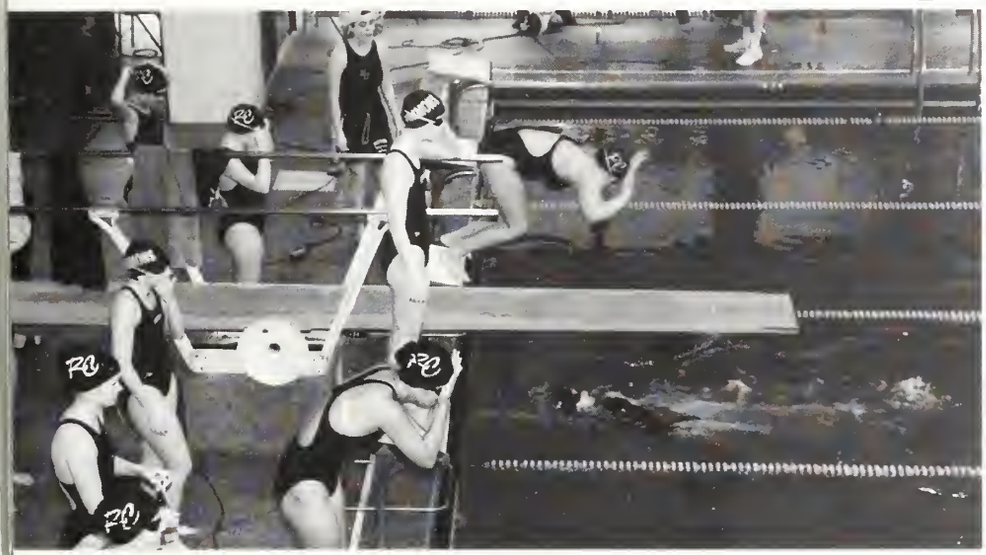
Soccer

This past fall season was a rebuilding one for the whole Soccer Team. Led by new coach Cherise Galasso, a team of all new players, with the exception of a few returners, cooperated to accomplish more than ever before. Through teamwork and dedication, the Regis College Soccer Team achieved higher than their goals and set the building blocks for the 1998 Soccer season!

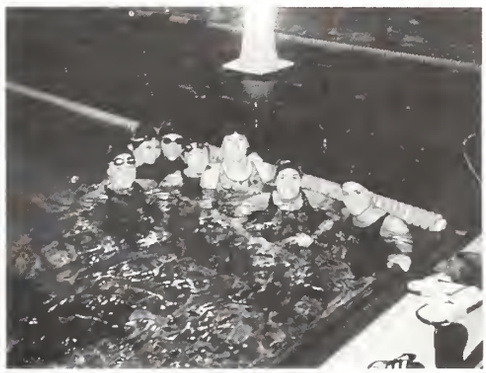
Basketball

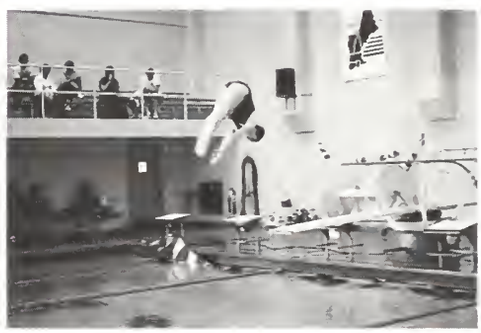
A new coach and a new year brought new goals to the Regis Basketball Team. One of these goals was that each player would play every game with their hearts and dedication. Struggling in the first half of the season, the team came together and ended their season with a winning record. The team would like to thank Seniors Erin Sweeney and especially Angela Caira for their help and hard work. Good luck in the future.

Swimming/ Diving



The Regis College Diving team had a very good season this year. The four divers: Katie Bresnahan, Kate Lennon, Erin Benson, and Allyson DiGregory, all worked very hard to improve on dives and learn new dives throughout the whole season. With the help of their new coach Mike Shannon, all of the team members had personal best scores and one diver broke the Regis College five required dive record. The season was exciting and successful. The seniors, Katie and Kate wish next year's team all of the best.





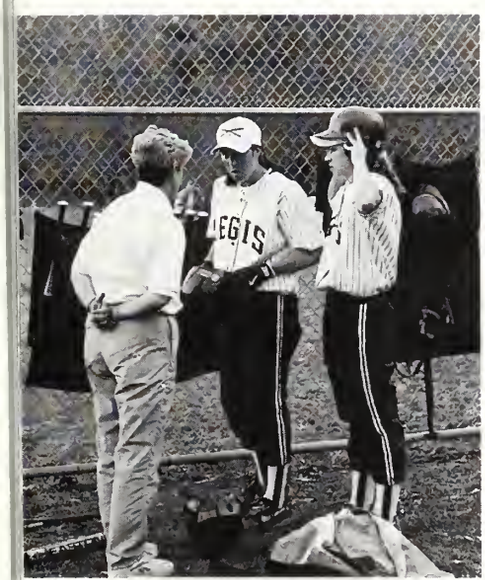
The Regis College Swim Team had an outstanding year this 97-98 season. A very close knit team, every swimmer was extremely dedicated to the team, and to each other. We all supported each other in every race we swam, and we all pushed each other to work hard in practice. Double sesions were tough, and if it wasn't for "Unchained Melody" playing that one practice, we all just might have cried. We had lots of get togethers, like movies, vidoes and pasta pig-outs which helped us bond. It was a great season and I'll never forget it. I hope every swimteam at Regis in the future is as dedicated, freindly and supportive as ours was this season.

Dawn Kilbania

Track

The 1998 winter track team was headed by senior co-captains, Danielle Smith and Mariah Donavan. Training was difficult throughout the cold winter months, especially without the frequent use of a track. Over christmas break, a few of the girls competed in open meets for practice, when we returned to school. We were successful in sending two athletes to New England's, April and Colleen. April also qualified for ECAC'S! It was a great season!

Softball



The 1998 Softball team ended the season with the record of 15 wins and 6 losses. The team was led by captains, Jill Fiore and Erin Howe, who worked hard on providing support and encouragement for a team of thirteen. After coaching for ten years, Joanne Ruane and Jean Smith are retiring. This season they accomplished their one hundredth win, which was well deserved. They are two wonderful people who instilled in us a love of softball, and have taught us how to be proud of each other and ourselves. They will be greatly missed. Thank you to all of our fans, who provided support throughout our season. Best of luck to the team next year!

... many of us are more dependent than at any other time in history upon friendships that truly work for us, bring us joy and give us a sense of well-being and belonging. We need someone who cares when we're sick or upset or have good news to share.

When we come into contact with our friend we enter into a different environment where the air we breathe is more pure, the sounds we hear are sharper, the colors we see more dramatic, and the ideas we think quicker and more insightful. The physical environment is completely different, because now we are in a situation not only where we are free to be ourselves but where we have no choice.

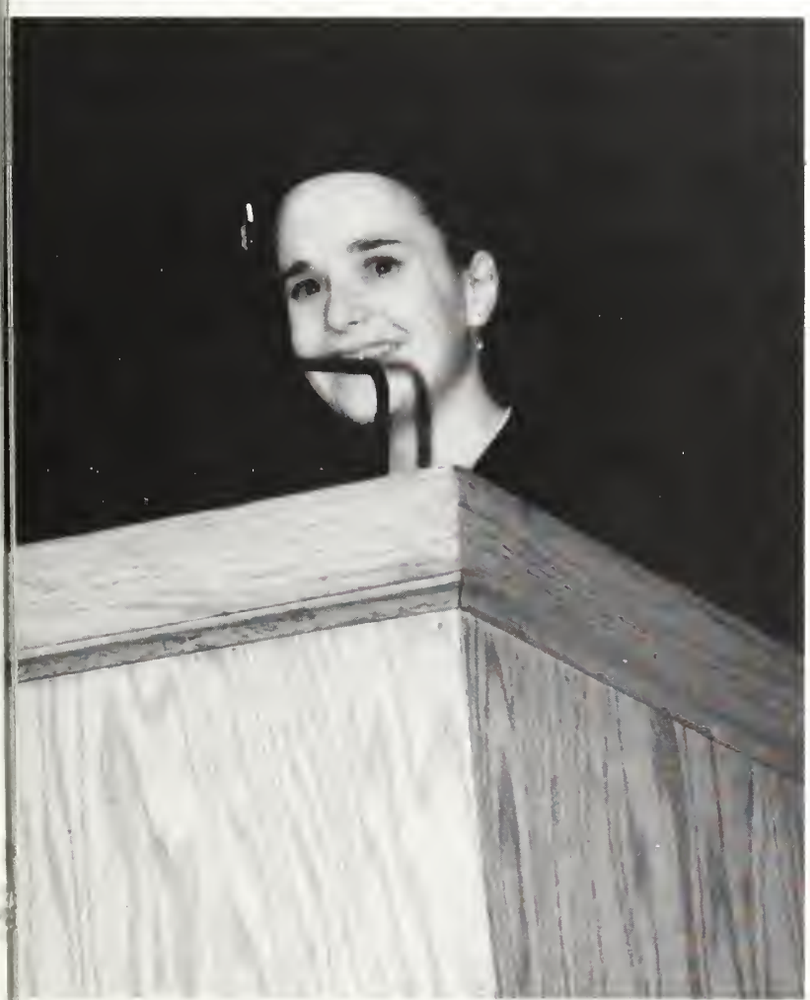
ALMA MATER

High on the hilltop in sunshine and shadow
E'er tenderly guiding the lives 'neath your care,
Fostering goodness in hearts that are grateful,
Our dear Alma Mater, attend our fond prayer.
Hold all our memories safe in your keeping,
And hallow our dreams of the future's bright hours;
Dear Alma Mater, e'er watching and waiting,
We twine in our hearts for you undying flowers.

Peace like an angel's wing hovers around us,
Through sorrow and laughter its clear light we see.
Regis, our dear Alma Mater, we bless you,
And faithful to you and your standards we'll be.
Hold all our memories safe in your keeping,
And hallow our dreams of the future's bright hours;
Dear Alma Mater, e'er watching and waiting,
We twine in our hearts for you undying flowers.



Angela McHugh Maunsell - Valedictorian

"I have not ceased being fearful,
but I have ceased to let fear control me.
I have accepted fear as a part of life-
specifically the fear of change,
the fear of the unknown;
and I have gone ahead despite the pounding in my heart that says;
turn back, turn back,
you'll die if you venture too far"

Here's to her courage,
for willing herself
into a world unknown;
a maze of classrooms and classmates
for engaging in the reciprocity of a student and a teacher.
Here's to her perseverance,
for dedicating herself
to the sage's way,
for freeing her mind and heart
to face, embrace or recant
the ideals of a lifetime.
Here's to her,
for she is accomplished
she is a wife
she is a mother
she is a graduate.
Here's to her,
for she is loved.

Congratulations Mom!
